

About

The University of Limoges (Unilim) is a French public research university based in Limoges in west-central France. Founded in 1968, it is a multidisciplinary university with 15,555 students; 2,197 foreign students (14%).

Unilim is well-known for its Master's program in cryptology and information security (CRYPTIS). Master CRYPTIS was the first graduate program in France in the field of cryptology and has been consistently considered being one of the best cryptology training programs in France for over 30 years.

The Vingroup Science & Technology Scholarship Program offers scholarship opportunities for qualified students to study the Master CRYPTIS Program in France. Further information about the scholarship is available HERE

Website: <https://www.unilim.fr/>

Strengths

- Several kinds of housing options on campus and downtown Limoges.
- Several kind of places to eat on campus and downtown Limoges.
- A free wifi access on campus.
- «A la carte» french courses taught at the french language institute.
- Free multi-media modern library on each faculty
- An international welcome office that can help you in your administrative formalities.

Location

- Limoges scores highest among French cities on availability of student housing
- Limoges is ranked as one of the most agreeable cities for students

Contact

For further information about the Vingroup Science & Technology Scholarship Program, please send an email to scholarships@vingroup.net or call (+84) 24 7108-9779 (Ext: 9029).

Sources:

QS World Universities Rankings 2019; QS World Universities Rankings by Subject 2019

KAIST website & reports;