

About

The University of Tokyo, abbreviated as Todai, is a public research university located in Bunkyo, Tokyo, Japan. Established in 1877 as the first imperial university, it is one of Japan's most prestigious universities. It is consistently ranked in the top 50 universities in the world, placed at 23th in the 2019 QS World University Rankings. The university has graduated many notable alumni, including 17 Prime Ministers, 9 Nobel Prize laureates, 3 Pritzker Prize laureates, 3 astronauts, and 1 Fields Medalist.

The University of Tokyo is considered a top research institution of Japan. It receives the largest amount of national grants for research institutions. According to Thomson Reuters, Todai is the best research university in Japan. Its research excellence is especially distinctive in Physics (1st in Japan, 2nd in the world), Biology & Biochemistry (1st in Japan, 3rd in the world), Pharmacology & Toxicology (1st in Japan, 5th in the world), Materials Science (3rd in Japan, 19th in the world), Chemistry (2nd in Japan, 5th in the world), and Immunology (2nd in Japan, 20th in the world).

Website: <https://www.u-tokyo.ac.jp/en/index.html>

Subject ranking by QS WUR 2019

- Biological sciences: #15
- Computer science & Information systems: #26
- Engineering & Technology: #13
- Electrical-Electronic Engineering: #17
- Mechanical Engineering: #16
- Natural sciences: #9

Contact

For further information about the Vingroup Science & Technology Scholarship Program, please send an email to scholarships@vingroup.net or call (+84) 24 7108-9779 (Ext: 9029).

Sources:

QS World Universities Rankings 2017 and 2019; QS World Universities Rankings by Subject 2019

University of Tokyo website & reports; Thomson Reuters